But with increasing amount of people who come to Singapore, the chances of getting a Singapore hookup are also growing. Meeting someone new and starting a relationship can be stressful. What if you met someone and they turned out to be the wrong one? Here's how to make sure you find the right Singapore Person with the help of some expert dating tips, according to a professional matchmaker. 1. Choose the right location Hook up apps like Tinder may give you a multitude of matches around the world, but you should be careful of where you're meeting people, says Sophia Wong, a professional matchmaker from SgLines. "Most dating apps can be used for casual hookups, but you won't find serious Singapore relationships on them," she tells MillennialMatch.com. While you could be meeting someone from abroad, be very cautious if the person claims to be from Singapore or is expressing Singaporean culture. "By exchanging emails and messages, getting to know each other better can help avoid awkward conversations when you're actually meeting. This is crucial for every relationship," Sophia says. 2. Choose someone who strikes your fancy Be picky when choosing the right Singapore person, says Sophia. "Be careful not to choose your partner based on their looks, since you can never tell what would make a person right for you until you meet them in person. Your partner could be your perfect match, and you could be disappointed if you fall in love with someone else. "But also be open to meeting someone who may not match you physically," she says. 5. Seek out the right Singapore hookup apps There
